Human Trafficking and Tactical Operations

Thursday, June 13, 2024

0800-1700

Napa, CA

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Sometimes in law enforcement, different areas of expertise or capacity are often seen as separate entities, courses of action, or responsibilities. This class was created to challenge that notion and blends two areas together: human trafficking investigations and tactical operations. This highly interactive class will focus on a beginning to end table top scenario with learning points driven home via case law exploration, industry standard concepts, and real life case studies. Concepts to be covered will include:

- Human Trafficking Laws
- PC 835a discussion
- Human Trafficking Investigative Techniques
- Operational Planning: Patrol and Tactical Teams
- Thinking About HT Victims
- Day Of Operation
- Linking Evidence for a Fileable Case
- Liability, Record Keeping, and Report Writing

INSTRUCTOR(S):

Sgt. Kyle Baker began his career with Pittsburg Police Department in 2010. Since then, he has held numerous positions to include patrol, SWAT, FTO, RTO, and department trainer. In 2016, he was selected as a detective to the Special Investigations Unit where he began investigating human trafficking and commercial sex cases. Kyle teaches human trafficking related topics around the State of California, is a law enforcement advisor for national anti-human trafficking organizations, and has been featured on several podcasts.

Cpl. Jarred Pereira: Jarred is a state-sworn Police Officer for approximately 12 years. Jarred is currently assigned as the Corporal of an Investigations Unit for the San Ramon Police Department. From 2015 to 2020, Jarred was assigned as a federally-sworn Task Force Officer (TFO) with Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) in Oakland, CA – focusing on sophisticated criminal organizations involved in drug trafficking, fire-arms trafficking, and money laundering.
