

STREET LEVEL DRUG INTERDICTION

Hosted by LA HIDTA and BBS Narcotics Enforcement Training & Consulting, LLC

Street level drug dealers are the most destructive dealers to a neighborhood. Street dealers and drug houses are the most visible drug dealers to the public. This level of drug dealers is commonly using social media to advertise and set up their drug deals. The street level drug trade is behind many of the crimes including homicides. This course will instruct the student of different investigative techniques to target these street level drug dealers and drug houses. The student will learn how to identify and the establish probable cause to search and arrest these drug dealers, without buying drugs. The course will cover testifying in court. The investigative techniques taught can be used by plainclothes officers, uniformed officers or with them working together.

The instructor for the class will be Brian Sallee. Brian retired as a detective from the Albuquerque Police Department. He was a police officer for 40 years and spent over 31 years working narcotics units. Brian has provided training to police officers from all 50 states as well as foreign police officers. He has written two books; Narcotics Investigations: Working and Surviving and The Methamphetamine Handbook: What You Need to Know.
