COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course involves an in-depth analysis of covert physical surveillance methodology. This class will cover the development of surveillance tradecraft, photographic tradecraft, vehicular vulnerabilities, tricks of the trade, surveillance focal points, discretion, surveillance reporting, terminology, surveillance types and responsibilities, critical situation decision making and judgments, radio communications, importance of area knowledge, counter surveillance detection, disguises, pre-planning, briefings and debriefings, goals & objectives of surveillance operations.

The opening portion of the class will include a two-hour lecture on definitions and purpose, types of surveillance, surveillance equipment, communication, procedures, planning, and preparation. We will also cover vehicle and foot surveillance tactics.

During the following portion of the training, students will participate in practical exercises utilizing each surveillance method incorporating foot and vehicle surveillance. The course level gradually increases in difficulty culminating with a combination surveillance of multiple two-person vehicles. In the final practical exercise, students will utilize the techniques learned during the classroom portion.

Please bring an unmarked law enforcement emergency vehicle from your department. No marked vehicles will be utilized during the scenario part of the class. Personal vehicles may be used. Class size is limited.

INSTRUCTOR

Sergeant Alex Naoum

Alex is a 28-year veteran of the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department, with over 16 years of experience related to street, mid, and major level narcotics investigations. Alex has been assigned to the following Sheriff's Department Narcotics Division Teams: Regional Methamphetamine Task Force, Marijuana Eradication Team, CalMet Team, and the Inland Regional Narcotics Enforcement Team (IRNET). He has spent a majority of his investigative time in major narcotics. Alex has hundreds of hours of experience in managing, monitoring, and being involved in active surveillances. He is utilized on a regular basis to train members of the Sheriff's Department in surveillance tactics and what to look for in counter surveillance maneuvers. Through his experience he has become an expert in mobile surveillance.
