Course Description: This course focuses on the real challenges that begin once a critical incident is rendered "safe," emphasizing that the aftermath can last for months or even years-especially if not managed properly. Through active learning, participants will engage in critical incident debriefs, group work, and facilitated discussions. The curriculum combines theoretical knowledge with practical application, utilizing scenario-based exercises, guest speakers, and lessons from real-world experiences.

Supervisors and administrators play a critical role in guiding their teams through the aftermath of critical incidents, making effective management essential to long-term success. This course offers a unique opportunity to gain practical skills and strategies that will strengthen your agency's ability to handle post-incident challenges with confidence and resilience. Enhance your leadership and protect your agency's future.
