This year's Serial Wildland Arson Investigation Training will emphasize the application of data analysis in identifying, prioritizing resources for, and monitoring emerging arson events or series of fires, the integration of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) in crime analysis, the "human aspect" of arson investigation, the impact of cognitive bias in modern investigations, and the exploitation of questioned documents in the criminal investigation process.

High caliber, real world serial/wildland arson investigation training is hard to come by. Join us again this year in Reno and invite your colleagues.
